| THE REPLY FILED 27 December 2004 FAILS TO PLACE THIS APPLICATION IN CONDITION FOR ALLOWANCE. Therefore, further action by the applicant is required to avoid abandonment of this application. A proper reply to a final rejection under 37 CFR 1.113 may only be either: (1) a timely filed amendment which places the application in condition for allowance; (2) a timely filed Notice of Appeal (with appeal fee); or (3) a timely filed Request for Continued Examination (RCE) in compliance with 37 CFR 1.114. | | | | | | | |

In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of the final rejection. ONLY CHECK THIS BOX WHEN THE FIRST REPLY WAS FILED WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF THE FINAL REJECTION. See MPEP 706.07(f). | | | | | | | |
| Extensions of time may be obtained under 37 CFR 1.136(a). The date on which the petition under 37 CFR 1.136(a) and the appropriate extension fee have been filed is the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b). | | | | | | | |

Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's latest reponse included a request for reconsideration in view of the declaration under 37 CFR 1.131 with accompanying exhibits A and B. This response was not sufficient to overcome the reference and thus the claims are still finally rejected.

The declaration filed on 12/27/04 under 37 CFR 1.131 has been considered but is ineffective to overcome the Yoshihara et al. reference.

The evidence submitted is insufficient to establish a conception of the invention prior to the effective date of the Yoshihara et al. reference. While conception is the mental part of the inventive act, it must be capable of proof, such as by demonstrative evidence or by a complete disclosure to another. Conception is more than a vague idea of how to solve a problem. The requisite means themselves and their interaction must also be comprehended. See Mergenthaler v. Scudder, 1897 C.D. 724, 81 O.G. 1417 (D.C. Cir. 1897). The evidence submitted does not show that the applicant had conceived of the invention commensurate with the claims prior to the effective date of the Yoshihara et al. reference. The evidence submitted in Exhibits A and B provide that the applicant had conceived of the basic concept of the invention (see section 2 of Exhibit B) but does not provide evidence that the applicant had conceived of the specifics of the invention as claimed. For instance, no evidence is presented that shows the applicant had conceived of a silicon nitride film on the upper and side portions of the gate electrode or that the silicon nitride film is formed to have the sandwiched portion with the relative dimensions as claimed.
